COMMENCEMENT AT GOULD'S ACADEMY.

Concert By Erato Quartette, Reception Friday Evening.

Commencement week is indeed the home coming week in Bethel. It is then that many return to meet old friends and attend the Gould's Academy commencement exercises. This year has been no exception; the past week brought many friends of the school to Bethel to enjoy the graduation exercises of the school.

Thursday was one of these delightful days, rare but ever appreciated and the afternoon brought a large gathering to Odeon Hall to listen to the exercises of the class of 1908. Never did Odeon Hall present a more pleasing and attractive appearance than upon this occasion. Pink and green were the class colors and the rear of the platform showed a shield about a background of green, while in front were potted plants and above was the class motto Labor et Honore.

The various classes bearing their class banners were marshaled to the seats respectively.

SPOTTER EVIDENCE

Convicts A Dozen Rumsellers at Rumford Falls This Week.

Monday afternoon the liquor dealers, of Rumford Falls, were given another shock, in the arrest of a dozen men on "spotter" evidence. A few cases were heard by Judge terms, Monday afternoon. Dan McAfferty was fined $50, and costs; and paid, also Frank Pelletier, James Gallagher, Edward Peters, Fred Price, and Juli Bouchard were sentenced to jail, and each appealed to the October term of court.

Tuesday the cases that were heard disclosed some sensational and peculiar situations.

County Attorney Barnes was present to prosecute the cases, and the evidence showed that a young man, named Leslie R. Curtis, 17 years old, had gathered evidence, which consisted of half pints of whiskey that he had bought of the respondents.

He took his purchase to deputy sheriff Perkins in each instance, and it was labeled by Mr. Perkins, and as each case was called by both Curtis and Perkins.

Frank Raymond, Joe Dugie, and Arthur King were convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $50, and costs of court. They each agreed to quit the business. J. W. Blanch and Esq., appeared for the respondents.

BASE BALL.

Gould's Academy V.8, Goulds Alum.

On Friday afternoon, June 5th, Gould's Academy played her last game of the season 1908, with Gould's Alum. With the exception of the first inning, this was a very close and exciting game. But in the first Gould's out Richardson and obtained his hit which settled the slight run. After that both the pitchers kept the hit well scattered.

On the whole this has been a fairly successful season for Gould's, winning four of the six games played with other school teams. Of the two games lost, one was to Hervey and at that time three of Gould's best players were out in the game on account of sickness. And the other game lost was at Bridgton, after Gould's had ridden 36 miles, and was 32 in condition for best work.

The boy that takes his hat off when he enters the house is the one who usually has his hair combed and his face clean, and the girl who says "please," and "thank you," is always prettier than the one who forgets these little things. You just look around and see if this is not true.

A RUMFORD TOWN MEETING CALLED.

A Carriage Bridge Over The Androscoggin.

To Replace The Foot Bridge Is The Issue.

From time to time since the development of business at Rumford Falls has reached its present proportions the desirability of a carriage bridge over the Androscoggin river in the place of the foot bridge has been discussed, and while no favorable action has resulted, the need of such a bridge has been generally admitted.

The continual growth of the west side, both in its residential and business sections, makes the need much more urgent than before.

Because of this increasing need a special town meeting has been called by the selectmen, at the instance of 100 of the voters of the town.

To see if the Town will vote to build a bridge.

TOWN OF BETHEL.

Almost One Hundred and Twelve Years Old.

Those interested in local history should bear in mind that Bethel as a legalized town will soon be 112 years old. On June 10, 1796 the General Court of Massachusetts acted favorably upon a petition from a township beyond Fryeburg and above Lewiston Falls on the Androscoggin river, in the district of Maine, and incorporated Bethel into a full fledged town.

The events prior to this date might prove helpful in forming a good idea of the long distance our town has traveled during the past century and a quarter.

Early records of the Massachusetts archives show that in 1793 the descendants of many soldiers who left Sudbury, Mass., and surrounding towns on the Colonial Expedition against Canada in 1790, prayed the General Court for their share of land which was to be given as a pension, or reward to the unfortunate soldiers for services rendered. After years of unsuccessful prayer, long delayed justice was at last done the claimants and a township called Sudbury, in honor of the home in commemoration of the unfurling of the flag was granted in 1793. It was clearly stated in the legal documents that this tract should be surveyed six and three quarters miles square, on both banks of the Androscoggin river, and not interfere with any previous grants. Evidently the early line men had much of the spirit which has developed to perfection in our age, and in laying out this tract, over reached the original bounds, and today the present town measures on an average, nine and one half miles long by five and one half wide and very irregular.

On December 2, 1799 the petitioners, otherwise known as Proprietors, called a meeting to transact business and to formulate plans for a settling campaign. A forty shilling tax that was imposed on each land owner seemed to prove a burden, so many not interested directly in the newly acquired prize sold their title or lost entirely for the non-payment of said tax. Thus the property finally drifted into the hands of a few with a speculative turn.

The one important move which seemed instrumental in opening the primeval forests of the new Sudbury, was the sale of a large parcel of land, called the "Mill Lot," to Capt. Joseph Twitchell of Sherborn, Mass., for the sum of 15 pounds, silver. This tract included not only the "Mill Brook" locality, but most of the land where the village now stands.

Some doubt if Capt. Twitchell ever personally visited his property, but we are sure that his son Elias Twitchell came in 1774, made a clearing on the brook, built a few log cabins and finally erected a saw mill, where the present stone dam is located on Mill brook. Five years later he cleared another spot a short distance down stream, where a grist mill was eventually built and soon in operation, to accommodate a few scattered families. This mill proved to be the first frame building in town, and is still in use today by Isaac Morrill, at the foot of Mill Hill, for his grain business.

During the Revolutionary period, many who intended to immigrate here, were absorbed by the patriotic forces, thus the plantation progressed slowly in culture until peace set men free, and sturdy pioneers sought the new country by following the Maine trail from Fryeburg through Waterford and Albany to Bethel. The Indian raid occurred August 3, 1747 on the defensive clearing of Jonathan Clark's near the big river, - now the Shubert farm.

THE ISLAND SAVED BECAUSE OF CALM.

Old Cates' Building on River Street.

Rumford Falls, Guffed by Fire, 3 A. M., Saturday.

A windless calm pervaded Rumford Falls, Saturday morning, and to that fact the safety of the island business blocks is due.

At 3.30 Saturday morning the alarm from box 26 called the department to the old Cates' building on River street situated directly in the rear of F. O. Walker's store. This is a three story, six tenement house, and was the home of five Poland families.

Just how the fire started is not known, but it was on the middle or upper floor when first seen by Mrs. Brown who has a room in F. O. Walker's tenement. She heard the noise of the people getting out their household effects, and stepped upon the back piazza of the tenement to be confronted with flames streaming up from the windows and doors.

She cried, "fire!" and Officer Roach rang in the alarm. Seeing the headway the flames had made, and the extreme danger of their spreading, he rang in a second alarm and called out the whole fire department.

There were soon streams of water from all sides of the building directed upon and into it, and although the fire was extinguished in about half an hour's time the building was badly burned from the first floor to the roof and thoroughly soaked with water.

Several of the families succeeded in getting out some of their household belongings. The top story families lost all they had. Some of the women had beds set up on the river bank and found some repose there after the fire was out, until the day had advanced so they could make other arrangements.

ARNO-CUSHMAN.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Arno of Bethel was a scene of beauty and happiness last Monday evening, when a few friends gathered to witness the marriage of their daughter, Lula to Mr. Chester Bowler of Cushman.

The parlor was prettily decorated with green and white; the bay window was a lower of loveliness, while cut flowers adorned the room, and ropes of green twinkling the doors.

At 8 o'clock, the notes of the wedding march, played by Edith Marston, sounded and the bridal couple took their places in the window. Rev. Mr. Banghart, pastor of the M. E. church, in a very impressive manner, performed the ceremony, the double ring service being used. The bride was becomingly attired and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas.

Mrs. Cushman is a graduate of Gould's Academy and since her graduation has been a faithful employee in the CITIZEN office, where the groom is also employed as linotype operator.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cushman are among our most highly respected young people and have many friends which fact was emphasized by the display of presents, which consisted of many pieces of silver, pictures, linen, etc.

The happy couple departed on the late train for Niagara Falls. Upon their return, a month's vacation will be spent at Montville, Mr. Cushman's home.

The best wishes of the CITIZEN and all of its employees as well as those of many friends are extended at this time for a long and happy wedded life.

GOULD'S ATHLETIC FIELD FUNDS.

As evidence of the loyalty of Gould's alumni sons, Melville C. Day, who was a student at the Academy fifty years ago, writes from Rome, Italy, enclosing a check for $100, and Chas. K. Fox, a prominent business man of Haverhill, Mass., sends $25, together with a letter of good cheer.

The fund now stands as follows:

Previously acknowledged	$525.00
Melville C. Day	100.00
Chas. K. Fox	25.00
Total	$650.00

PEACEFUL HANOVER BECOMING FAMOUS.

A Hamlet such as Poets Sung About Long Ago.

Has a Remarkable Spring of Medicinal Water.

In the romance of poetry of ye olden times there was much said about the quiet and self contained hamlets with their few hundreds of people who were quite like one great family.

Here and there throughout the country similar communities have escaped the grid and stress of modern commercialism, and present to our view a picture of rustic simplicity that is good to see.

In the very best sense of the idea Hanover, situated in the bend of the Androscoggin river about midway between Rumford Falls and Bethel, possesses the features that inspired the poets of old and might serve to awaken to life some modern muse.

SETTLEMENT.

In 1774 the first settlers made homes for themselves in the vicinity of Howard Pond. At that time the territory was a part of Bethel, and as continued until 1840, when it was incorporated as Hanover. The population was less than 300, and has never been above that figure, and is today nearer 300 than 500.

HANOVER SPRING.

At the present time the place is coming into public notice on account of the development of the Hanover Spring by the Hanover Spring Co. of Rumford Falls. This spring has been a source of drinking water supply for the inhabitants ever since there were any in Hanover, and is undoubtedly supplying water that because of its purity it possesses healthful and medicinal qualities.

The CITIZEN man visits the locality the other day. He was induced to do so by the fact that the committee having in charge the banquet arrangements for the Board of Trade, Hotelmen, and Druggists and Grocers of Atlantic City and adjoining places that took place June 5th, had sent a special order for Hanover Spring water for the banquet.

CHARACTER OF SPRING AND THE COUNTRY.

The spring itself is about one mile from the main river road, and on the road to Howard Pond, on whose shores the first Hanoverians settled.

As one travels up the road the cars are greeted with murmuring, sparkling, and now and then, musically blending, a gurgling sound that betrays the fact that a brook is flowing near by.

Peeping to the side of the road one is quite surprised to find that he is standing on a precipitous bank, that in reality a ridge formed along the mountain side, and that a hundred feet below there is a stream of water that dashes about rocks and under ledge projections, and behind bushes and clumps of trees, in a seeming effort to elude observation.

This brook, that appeals to the fisherman as a "good place" for trout, and to the millman as a source of power, comes from the pond of water that was caught in a sort of basin in the mountains in some prehistoric upheaval of nature, and for countless ages calmly awaited the coming of man.

This little stream that has in its mile and a half length a fall of 300 feet, furnishes the power for several saw mills and a grist mill. The mills are now, and always have been, the only business of consequence excepting farming.

On the opposite, or east side of the road, the spring is located. It bubbles up at the base of an almost perpendicular cliff that rises to the height of 75 or 80 feet, and continues in a

OMISSION.

It is needless to say that in speaking of the Memorial Day procession the reference to the Sons of Veterans was omitted, for the omission has doubtless been discovered by many. We regret this omission very much because an effort had been made to have a goodly representation of the Sons of Veterans and the same was lost, and we offer this as an apology for neglecting to include them in our report of the march up of the procession.

DEBATING REVIVED IN HIGH SCHOOL.

Prize Declamations by the Scholars

In Chisholm High School, Rumford Falls.

Last Friday night the final contest in the series of debates that the High School scholars at Rumford have been conducting this term under the direction of the Principal, Prof. Gaylord Douglass, occurred at the Chisholm school, before a large and interested audience.

The debating system of study has been somewhat neglected in school training of late and its revival is most commendable and the results very satisfactory, and it will become a permanent feature of school work.

Prof. Douglass offered a prize for the best declamation in the final contest. The contestants being the selected ones during the term's Friday night's contests. The Freshman and Sophomore classes were represented in the contest but the prizes were awarded to the Sophomores. There was a high degree of talent displayed in the declamations, and the audience were well repaid for their attendance.

BETHEL CREAMERY

Took Fire Last Thursday. Flames Quickly Extinguished.

Fire caught on the roof of the Bethel Creamery last Thursday about noon and as the roof was exceedingly dry the flames spread quite rapidly and it was necessary to call the fire department for help.

Mr. Wheeler lost no time in getting water from a hand hose onto the flames and had them well checked when the fire companies arrived and made quick work of extinguishing them.

The fire caught from sparks from the chimney.

An Old Song.

"Say, dad, what's that back o' your neck making such a noise about?"

"I dunno, son; but I guess they're singing 'In this wheat by and by.'"

DANGER OF CATARRH.

Unless Properly Treated With Hyomel, Becomes Serious.

Catarrhal troubles are far more dangerous than they seem at first thought.
If you have catarrh, there is an irritation of the mucous membrane, which affords an ideal lodgment and culture medium for disease germs, especially those of consumption.

Get cured as quickly as possible before you breathe some dangerous germs that may lodge on the diseased tissue and work destruction in the throat and lungs.

The easiest and surest way to cure catarrh is by the direct method of breathing Hyomel. There is no stomach drugging in this wonderful medicinal air treatment. It kills all catarrhal germs, making catarrh and other germ infection impossible.

A complete outfit costs but $1.00 and W. E. Bossmann agrees to refund the purchase price if Hyomel fails to cure.

A REPUBLICAN STATE CON- VENTION

Will Be Held In The Auditorium, Bangor
TUESDAY, JUNE 30, 1908
At 2 o'clock p. m.

For the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and State Auditor to be supported at the September election, and transacting any other business that may properly come before it.

The basis of representation will be as follows: Each city, town and plantation will be entitled to one delegate;
and for each 75 votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1906 an additional delegate; and for a fraction of 40 votes in excess of 75
votes, a further additional delegate.

Vacancies in the delegation of any city, town or plantation can only be filled by residents of the county in which the vacancy exists.

The State Committee will be in session in the afternoon of the Auditorium at one o'clock of the day of the Convention, for the purpose of receiving credentials of delegates. In order to be eligible to participate in the Convention, delegates must be elected subsequent to date of the call for this Convention.

All electors of Maine, whatever their political affiliations may have been,
who believe in the general principles and policy of the Republican party and desire its success at the polls in the coming election in this State, are cordially invited to unite under this call in electing delegates to the Convention.

Per order, Republican State Committee.
BETH M. CARTER, Chairman.
BYRON BOYD, Secretary.
Lewiston, May 8, 1908.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CON- VENTION.

The Republican voters of the County of Oxford in the State of Maine are requested to meet at the Court House at South Paris, on Wednesday, the seventeenth day of June, A. D. 1908, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following county offices to be supported at the September election, to-wit: Auditor, Judge of Probate, Register at Probate, County Treasurer, County Attorney, one County Commissioner and Sheriff. Also to choose a Republican County Committee for the years 1908 and 1910.

The basis of representation will be as follows: Each town and plantation organized for election purposes will be entitled to one delegate, and for each 75 votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1906 an additional delegate, and for a fraction of 40 votes in excess of 75 votes an additional delegate.

The Republican County Committee will be in session at the grand jury room at the Court House at South Paris, at 1 o'clock on the morning of the convention for the purpose of receiving the credentials of the delegates.

Delegates in order to be eligible to participate in the convention must be elected subsequent to the date of the call for this convention.

Per order Republican County Committee.

fit of the Grove Association.

FOURTH YEAR.

June 7th was the beginning of the fourth year's pastorate at the Congregational church for Rev. J. G. Fisher.
Mr. Fisher's sermons have attracted much attention because they are concise in language unusual for this section, and are impregnated with the liberal views of public questions that is characterizing a considerable branch of the church throughout New England.

RUMFORD BALL PLAYERS GATHER ANDOVER SCALPS.

The Rumford base ball team went to Andover Saturday and won a game from the club there by a score of 1 to 17. The Andover fellows were not quite in trim for a game with such stars but like the sons of free and independent men and Americans they are not the least bit dismayed and will give the Rumford team a jabbing yet, if their talk on the quiet signifies any thing.

The Rumford team went to Andover in autobus, and had some discouraging adversities. Each of the three machines that were conveying them burst tires and as a last resort a machine from Andover had to be summoned to take a part of the fellows home.

On the return trip the gasoline gave out in one of the cars and the crowd aboard were finally landed in Rumford by the means of an old dabbler and an ordinary carriage such as the farmers here used to travel to market in, in "yarn old time." Not withstanding all these disasters they enjoyed the trip.

Two games will occur on the Rumford Falls diamond July 4th. A game in the forenoon and afternoon will be played between the Rumfords and Lewistons.

THE FOX Improved Glass
Self Freezing
ICE CREAM JAR
Freezer and Packer Combined

Especially adapted to family use. The quickest, easiest and best method for making Ice Cream. Three-fourths of the disagreeable work of the old process done away with. Its absolute cleanliness recommends it to general favor. Poisoning impossible. It is readily filled and contents easily removed. The cream remains frozen much longer than by the old process. It is impossible for the cream to become impregnated with the salt from the pack. It is proving one of the best selling articles ever put on the market.

Follow directions carefully and results will be everything that we claim and more.

EFFIGY OF A WOMAN ON ITALIAN SHACK.

On one of the Italian shacks near Smith's crossing Rumford Falls there is an effigy of a woman. It stands on the roof of the little house apparently supported by a staff.
As seen from the road it is not clearly apparent that it is meant to represent a woman and upon closer observation the first impression is that it is of some religious significance.

The CITIZEN man being curious to find out the real object for which the effigy was there, wandered among the shacks; and upon questioning some of the men, discovered that the shacks on the effigy were those belonging to a woman who had lived in the shack upon which the smooth image stood, and was so unfortunate as to suddenly die in the early part of the winter.

From the imperfect speech of the Italian it was inferred that nothing was implied by the gruesome exhibition of a religious, sacred, or even superstitious nature. The man who claimed her as a wife put the object there, and if the Italian made himself plain it was done "for fun."

It seemed rather a peculiar occasion for making sport and the CITIZEN man asked several of the Yankee residents of the shacks if any other explanation could be given. That there is one opinion among the Italians that is responsible for such a superstition seems to be based on the fact that the shacks on which the effigy stands were built by a woman who had lived in the shack upon which the smooth image
stood, and was so unfortunate as to suddenly die in the early part of the winter.

NORWAY AND SOUTH PARIS

Danger From High Water.

The lake at Norway is higher than has been known for years, some say higher than was ever known, and there has been some anxiety about the dam holding at the outlet of the lake, but the danger, if there was real danger of anything giving way, passed, and the water is slowly falling. Some of the boat houses, at the outlet, were out of service several days on account of the high water.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

The graduating class of Norway High School was favored with an able, interesting and eloquent baccalaureate sermon, delivered by Rev. B. S. Riddout, in the Congregational church. There were fifteen graduates who were ushered to their place in the church, with all due grace and ceremony by the Marshal, H. D. Tobbs. The decorations included the national flag, flowers, and the class colors, dark blue and gray. Excellent music was furnished by the choir, and the audience filled the church.

Mr. Riddout, took his text, in part, from Matt. VI, 33. "But seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness and these things shall be added unto you" and part from 1 Tim. I, 7. "For God has not given us the spirit of fear, but of power and of love and a sound mind."

He urged the members of the class to seek high ideals, and pursue them with diligence and patience. Honest work with solid character would win in the end. Those who had wasted the opportunity for a right preparation for their great life work, should lose no time, but begin at once a system of discipline which would lead them on to true success.

Iron Bridge.

One of the best things in permanent road building is the iron bridge. It may cost more when put on but if wisely selected, it will out wear any wooden bridge, thus in strength and durability will more than compensate for the extra first cost and is by far the cheapest in the end. Two new iron bridges are to be placed where an old wooden one spans small streams in the town of Paris. At the March town meeting an appropriation was made for these and they are now being ready to be placed.

One will be on Hill street, South Paris, crossing Stony Brook, near the Grange hall and Foundry. The other will be on the road to Trap Corner. The first bridge is 36 ft. long and the second 28 ft. but each have a 14 ft. roadway.

The Canton Bridge Co. of Canton Ohio are the makers of the bridges.

New Concrete House.

The new concrete house on Pine street was up, closed in, roof complete, and practically done outside, in just three weeks from the time the first shovelful of sand was thrown out of the place where the foundation was going in. Carpenters and Plasterers are now at work inside finishing up, ready to occupy. It is a house of eight rooms with bath, and electric lights. These cottages make a nice home for a small family. They are next in appearance and substantial, a great improvement to this street, one of the best in South Paris, to build on. On this street is the new High School building, and the Universalist Church built in 1903.

Moore Park.

Never looked better than it does this spring, with its nicely trimmed walks, bright green sward evenly mowed, and the maple trees now in full foliage, making the whole a picture of beauty pleasing to the eye, and enticing to the passer by these warm sunny days, where the comfortable seats in the shade, look so restful.

This park has not only adorned but its patrons who enjoy its beauty and its comfort, for it is a spot for the town's people, and especially those in the village, to be proud of.

Pythian Sunday in Norway.

Pennecott Lodge, No. 18 Knights Pythias observed Memorial Sunday, June 7, Members of the Lodge, the Sisters and invited guests from Hamlin Lodge, South Paris met in Castle Hall at a well-attended service where the ranks were sent to Pine Grove Cemetery where fifty twenty brothers were fittingly remembered.

The Memorial service followed in the Baptist church, and was delivered by Rev. Howard Christopher of Mechanic Falls. The discourse emphasized not only love, charity and brotherhood in the fraternal sense, but a more extended meaning, carrying the principles to the home life and a deeper sense of our influence for good citizenship even at the ballot box.

The Congregational choir, with Mrs. Norman, organist, furnished appropriate music.

Tax Rate.

The tax rate in Paris, this year, will be 10 cents per $100 of assessed value.

Special Service.

Mrs. Ellen M. Stone, the Bulgarian Missionary, who was captured by Brigands and held a prisoner for a long time, and was at last delivered to U. S. authorities by demand of the U. S. Government, has been engaged to speak at a union service in South Paris, Sunday evening, June 28. The place of the meeting will be announced later.

A "Merry-Go-Round" has made its appearance in Norway and is located on the open lot at the corner of Alpine and Paris streets, near the fair grounds.

Colby & Co. are now building another and a larger concrete building on Wheeler street in a slightly location where it will be noticeable from many directions.

The new street, Wheeler, will furnish opportunity for building many houses not far from the Paris Manufacturing Co.'s plant where houses are in great demand.

WEST PARIS.

Alton Day took 14 in a hayrack to the Childrens Day meeting of Franklin grange, at Brynna Pond, and several of the children who went from here took part in the music and recitations on the program of entertainment.

W. H. Lurvey is having work for several weeks at Backfield, where he has charge of putting up 3 new telephone lines.

The fire company tested the Paris Manufacturing Company's steam pump last Saturday afternoon and find it a very good fire protection for the center of our village. 3600 feet of the new hose was attached to the mill hose and at the house of L. C. Bates, on Main street, would throw a stream of water well over the tops of the 2 story houses. This with the chemical engine would be quite a help in case of fire, and our people hope a complete protection for any small blaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Estes are having a fishing trip and C. H. Bates, Emerson, G. Curtis, H. H. Wardwell and Millard Emmons, have just returned from a fishing trip in the Lake region.

S. Barry Locke, of this place, graduates this week from the University of Maine, at Orono. He will go to Indian township in Washington Co., where he will do some forestry work which is his specialty.

Augustus S. Dunham has been pensioned off by the U. S. R. R. and has come here from Danville to make his home for the present with his daughter Mrs. C. E. Bardeen.

Mrs. Jesse Dexter, recently visited a few days in Lewiston.

SOUTH PARIS.

Miss Wilma Merrill has returned to her home in Westbrook. She has been visiting Mrs. Howard Shaw.

Mrs. Nellie Dean, of Berlin N. H., is visiting at her cousin, J. H. Dean.

Mr. A. E. Morse left here Wednesday, for a trip in the eastern part of the state.

The Epworth and Junior Leagues have been invited over to Mr. T. M. Davis's Thursday evening of this week. Rev. A. T. McWhorter will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of Paris High School, at the Congregational church, Sunday, June 14, at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Allen C. Wheeler was in Auburn last week.

Herbert Hiller is seriously ill. Mr. John Cavelly formally of this place is visiting here.

Miss Helen Chapman who has been attending Bates Business College is at home now.

Ray Bird, Robert Wheeler, Lewis Keane, and Chester Merrill are at home from the University of Maine for their summer vacation.

Ray Foster is at home from the American Agricultural School for the summer vacation. Prof. Bates accompanied him home.

Mr. Harry Wheeler is at home. He was called home on the account of his mother, Mrs. P. R. Wheeler, who is failing rapidly.

NORWAY.

"The Christian" produced by Oulrich Social Players in the Opera House, June 8, was a success. The scenic effects, electrical display and costuming out classed anything which he has previously given. The individual acting, set each member of the cast as a star in that particular role. Stearns Orchester with Iza Pike at the piano, never did any better work. Because of a general call from a great many people, the play will be repeated in full, June 19.

The auction at E. C. Libby's Saturday afternoon, of Mrs. Minards household goods, drew a large crowd of bidders. Geo. Cole was master of ceremonies and auctioneer.

The settling of some large timbers about the flume of the Pennecott sawmill lake outlet, caused no little uneasiness in town last week. The heavy rains brought up the pond to the spring level causing more pressure than the rotten wood could stand. Supt. Howard Young hustled his crew on to the scene and with props managed to relieve the danger until permanent repairs can be made.

Mrs. Horace Sanborn (nee Minnie Dargis) of Portland, is visiting at Mrs. Herman Horn's and Mrs. Geo. Holmes. She also divides her vacation among a host of friends in the village.

The High School Graduation Thursday eve, was a complete success. The Opera House being crowded with the relatives and friends of the retiring senior class. A delightful program was arranged and carried out perfectly in every detail. The Grand Ball Friday evening given by the '08 class with Stearns orchestra at its best, delighted full seventy couples, who gaily danced until 1 a.m.

Merrill, the photographer, took a flash-light picture of the full cast of "The Christian" after the show. The photo is a good one and is having a heavy sale.

Schools finishing Thursday, gave the youngsters the chance of their lives. Friday being the "good time day," must certainly have proved the strenuous day for the teachers. The fourth grade enjoyed the day on Cola's Hill, up Pleasant street. Fifth and Sixth grades captured Penley's grove at So. Paris, besides owning two special electric cars for a whole day. The Seventh and Eighth sailed westward to Gibson's grove on Downings "Zanite." Every body who went, no matter where, played base-ball, ate the basket lunch to distraction, romped and shouted and had a grand good time.

Guyll & McKen started their Merry-go-round on the circus grounds near Alpine street, last Saturday evening and had a fair run of business. The machine has been overhauled, freshly painted, and ought to catch many stray nickels. Both owners are gentlemen and popular with the young patrons.

Eugene Stevens has returned from his Moosehead Lake trip and will remain at home a few weeks.

Oxford crossed bats with West Paris at the Fair Grounds Saturday afternoon. The game opened with the bats about evenly divided, but the West Paris boys seemed to take kindly to the supposed invincible Adams curves, and kept the ball rolling toward deep field. Yet above all several of the Oxford team tried the high wire act which always proves a benefit to the other fellow. The final result amounted to a victory for West Paris, score 8-4.

Stones, the photographer, is showing some fine post cards taken at Harry Root Post St., Memorial Day. Not many years hence these souvenirs will be highly treasured by the scattered citizens.

Herbert A. Rich & Son are busy these hot days delivering Mineral Spring Water.

People appreciate good pure water, and Verna Rich the popular driver dispenses of a hundred and fifty gallons of the sparkling product daily. Twenty-five gallons are consumed every working day in the shoe factory alone.

Speaking of ball games being town, what do you think of this one. Our High School team drove to Mechanic Falls and played the High School nine there an eleven inning game to the time of 1:0 in Norway's favor. Only one error being given to each club. Odell Rich acted as coach for the Legs from here.

About thirty members of the Am. department assembled in Eugene H. Hall Sunday morning. Following a procession headed by Chief Engineer Chase Hathaway, they marched to the Baptist church where a special program and services had been carefully prepared.

Thousands Have Kidney

Tremble and Never Suspect It.

Most people do not realize the alarm increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease.

While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage.

It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When you write, mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

A RUMFORD TOWN MEETING CALLED.

The principal objection heretofore has been the great cost of it. At the present time the cost of building material, particularly structural steel, is very low in price and the work can be done much cheaper now than ever before.

It is sure that at no far distant day the present foot bridge will have to be replaced and that fact taken together with the low cost of construction now prevailing makes the present a most favorable opportunity to undertake the work.

There are natural rock foundations for bridge abutments at points a few rods north of the foot bridge, on both sides of the river.

The building of a bridge at this point will provide Mead, Roxbury, Andover and other up-country people with easier and more direct access to the business part of the town, and will accommodate a very large proportion of the West side residents.

The bridge is to be viewed in the light not only of a present but a permanent but a future necessity.

DEATH OF EMERSON MURCH OF DIXFIELD.

Last Saturday, at one o'clock, A.M. occurred the death of Emerson Murch, a much respected citizen of Dixfield. He had been a sufferer for several years with a complication of ailments, although he had been confined to the house but a week at the time of his death.

Mr. Murch was born in Carthage fifty three years ago and moved to Dixfield twenty one years ago, and has since made his home there. Early in his residence he proved himself a man worthy of the esteem and confidence of his fellow men and his life has been such that that respect continued to the end. The large attendance at the funeral service was a testimony to the regard in which he was held by the community.

Rev. H. W. Webber presided the funeral services. There were also Masonic ceremonies conducted by the King Henry Lodge of F. and A. M. of Dixfield and the Eastern Star of Rumford Falls. The deceased leaves a widow, an aged father and one brother. The burial was at Carthage.

BROTHERS IN A SQUAB.

Ed and Harry Siddalls of Rumford Falls were arrested by officers O'Leary and Elliott, Saturday, while engaged in a fight on the lot fronting Canal dam. They were in court Monday morning and paid a fine of $2.00 each.

RECEIVAL.

The pupils of Prof. FRANK J. Rigby will give a recital at the Union Hall church Monday night, June 15. This will be an entertainment of great merit, and should attract a large audience. A feature of the entertainment will be recitations by the Junior band.

AS TO HIM.

Little Ikey Klawer (reading criticism of our story)—What do you think, pop? Der hits at Seabrooks averaged only one-and-a-half per cent.

Mr. Klawer (bouncer manager)—Well, dey don't average any more on Broadway, my own—Pop.

After the Henchmen.

"Boo-hoo!" sobbed Cynthia under her blue bonnet. "I don't believe you love me any more."

"Wall, I do declare," laughed Jason, as he washed the milk pails, "what put that idea into your head, little gal?"

"Why, before our marriage you used to honey me up and say I was as sweet as sweet elder and now you say I am sour."

"Oh, don't worry, pet. Even the sweetest of sweet elder turns to vinegar after a time."

Dorothy's View.

"Mamma," said little Dorothy, "what makes Uncle Ben look so funny?"

"Heek, child," hastened the mother, "Uncle Ben is what they call a 'wise old saw'."

Dorothy looked at the married of frowns on the old gentleman's face.

"Delectus, mamma!" she whispered. "He looks so cross he must be one of those 'crossed' saws like they say big legs with."

To Maintain Health.

There is an enormous idea in the minds of many as to what constitutes a strong physique.

strong physically without great stature and huge muscles. If he has a wiry frame, a body that resists disease, he can indulge in many hours of severe brain work. He will make it a rule, however, to take sufficient physical exercise to keep his system in good working order.

Mental Struggle.

"A great struggle takes place in a woman's mind when another woman asks what her new gown cost," remarked the thoughtful thinker.

"What's the answer," queried the unsophisticated youth.

"She's in doubt whether to cut the price in half and make the other woman envy her bargain, or double it and make her envy her absence," replied the f. t.

Did You Ever.

Passenger—This is a very slow train, conductor.

Conductor—Yes, sir! I think it's the fault of them sleeping cars behind.

Evidently a Title in the Family.

"Do you think Estlin Star's career has been a success?"

"Not if you judge a man by his nose."

near Skilling's wool mill.—Here the Red-skins found Nathaniel Sugar, Jonathan Clark, Eleazar Twitchell and Benjamin Clark. Capt. Twitchell watched his opportunity and cleared out, but the less fortunate neighbors were marched off to Quebec, yet found their way back through an exchange of prisoners a year or so later.

Because of this sudden disturbance, a log fort with quarters for a small garrison was built on the island near the grist mill settlement, near the present home of N. F. Brown, and soon sheltered soldiers, sent on the strength of a petition. Settlers who could not reach the legally sought safety each night with in this enclosure, until the excitement abated. As time passed and no further attempts were made by the Indians to repeat their treachery, the influential proprietors commenced to do a little "gum-shoe" work, and offered great inducements to young men if they would take up the many vacant claims scattered over the township. Many came, through alluring pictures of valuable forests and wealth, thus the population increased rapidly and the proprietors' dreams were realized.

The first census taken in 1790 show a little over 300 persons, both male and female within the limits. Five years later nearly 150 more had arrived, so Sudbury, Canada was literally booming.

Early in 1796, men of affairs began to discuss a more efficient organization, so a petition was drafted and presented to the Massachusetts Legislature or General Court, asking to be incorporated as a town with all its legal rights.

In framing up the final document, some friction over a proper name for the new town seemed to have developed. Capt. Twitchell suggested "At," and Rev. Elipha Chapman proposed the good old Bible name, Bethel, the "House of God." A majority vote decided the contest and Bethel for a name was sent along with the petition.

The act passed the House of Representatives, the Senate and received the signature of Gov. Samuel Adams, June 10th, 1796.

Glasgow for His.

"This orange marmalade comes from Scotland," said a grocer. "Nice—on the Riviera, you know—also turns out a marmalade."

"I visited the Riviera last winter. The sewage of Nice runs into the blue Mediterranean, and you can see it coating on the sunlit water, with gulls swarming about it like great flies."

"Sometimes it is washed ashore. You study it from the Promenade des Anglais—cabbage tops, bottle-wrappers of straw, orange skins, lemon skins, soft green masses of vegetable refuse."

"And day by day Nice men patrol the shore, selecting from the garbage all the orange skins, which they thrust into large burlap bags."

"Will you have the Nice or the Glasgow marmalade? The Glasgow? Thank you, sir."

Bringing Out the Best.

Do you know those people who always bring out your best?

You should not be ungenerous or spiteful in their presence. That is a beautiful effect for a woman to have on her home. Thousands of men produce their finest work in the world through the influence of a wife, mother or sister, who brings out the best that is in them.

On the other hand, many men have perpetrated wholesale cruelties, have committed great crimes and left a fastidious mark on history because some woman, or an unhappy home, has brought out their worst.

The concert program was of the same high grade quality that is always given by the Scherberts and was a treat for Rumford Falls people.

CLEVER TRICK OF THIEVES.
Use Offensive Odor of Onions to Aid in Shoplifting.

"Incredible as it may seem," said Lacey, the detective, "there are a number of shoplifters who steal by the agency of the onion. These bandits, once inside a store, sit on raw onions abundantly. Then they stroll into the silversmith's or the haberdashery or the jeweler's that they propose to rob. 'Show me those large solitaires surrounded with pigeon-blood rubies, please,' says the jeweler thief. The clerk brings forth the tray of gems and handing over it, the thief sighs with admiration. His face close to the clerk, he sighs again. And the clerk's nostrils quiver and he turns away his head. The inspection of diamonds continues for some minutes. Throughout it the thief keeps breathing hard, the clerk keeps turning his head away and hence it is no wonder at the day's end that a couple of costly rings are missing."

HOW TO WASH CHAMOIS.
Gloves of That Kind Should Be Cleaned in Bath of Soapy Water.

Every woman is under the impression that chamois skin gloves are grand till she has tried to wash a pair. They are said to wash so easily that the one who has a pair seldom makes any attempt to keep them clean in the beginning. She is sure that all she has to do is to give them a careless scrubbing to make them as good as new that she doesn't take over the ordinary precautions. Wait till she has tried washing them just once, and then hear her denounce anything made of chamois skin forever after.

They can be washed to look like new, however, if one but knows the right trick of leaving the soap in to keep them soft. Again, it is bad policy to wash them on the hand, as they are sure to stretch this way. Rather clean them by the squeezing method, rolling them up in a little ball in the palm of the hand. Wash in several waters, all soapy, and finally pull into shape without rinsing. Do not stretch them in the least, but after working the fingers into shape hang them in a current of air, but not near heat of any kind. When dry give them a vigorous rubbing with a brush to bring up the nap.

OLD-FASHIONED STYLES LIKED.
Odd Shapes in China Are in Favor This Season.

Old-fashioned styles in china will prevail this season, and to the undisturbed look of the new dinner ware will appear odd because the shapes are odd rather than pretty.

For the decoration of the dining room in restaurants, for many of the designs are in keeping with this style of furnishing.

As to the decoration on these—milk cream—small, plain-looking necessary of flowers in one color are used throughout each service. This ornamentation is in just such plain shades as green, blue and red.

There is a marked change in the shapes of the dishes, for the square vegetable dishes and square bowls, the latter made in one piece, with the dish it rests upon, have returned to favor.

The most striking feature of the new dinner ware is the use of the square bowl and the square plate. Small butter plates are shaped square to match, and so are many of the smaller side plates.

Maple Sugar Cakes.
This is a recipe not generally known, but it has been tried with great success. For the layers rub together one cup of butter and two cups of sugar until they form a cream.

Add the yolk of four eggs beaten lightly, three cups of sifted flour, half a cup of milk, the whites of the eggs whipped to a froth and finally one teaspoonful of baking powder. Bake in puff pans. For the filling beat one cup of maple syrup until it thickens. Pour slowly upon the white of one egg, which has been beaten stiff, beating steadily all the while. Continue beating until the mixture is cold and thick, then spread between the layers and on the top. If desired still richer stir half a cupful of butter, which have been chopped fine, into the filling just before spreading on the cake.

Monday morning, when the day was so bright, a breeze blowing from the north, got down from the clouds and apparently in thought not over the bridge across bridge, and finally descended on to the water, where it was the first time in the last of the week.

PEACEFUL HANOVER.

sentiments that embrace nearly an acre of land. From the appearance of the landscape it seems quite probable that in some not very remote period there occurred a tremendous land slide, or some other violent natural occurrence that caused this effect.

Previous to that occurrence this spring must have exhausted itself in some catastrophic outlet; for it is not likely that it forced itself up through nearly a hundred feet of earth and ledge.

The company that is bottling the water has built a cement lined house over the spring, and conduct the water through a pipe to the bottling house, situated on the roadside.

The bottling is done under the direction of George D. Douglas, an experienced man in the work, and well known in connection with the Virginia Spring Company, bottlers of ginger ale and tonic.

Every possible precaution is taken to insure the water being bottled without coming in contact with anything that can introduce even a floating particle of dust into it.

They are shipping it to the New York markets in large quantities, and although it has been on sale but a few weeks, it is meeting with a quick demand, and the market for it is growing larger every day. There is no doubt that this water will take a leading place among the famous spring waters of Maine.

One of the remarkable features concerning this spring is that the temperature of the water varies but a few degrees throughout the year. Last winter when the thermometer registered its lowest point, there was not even a suggestion of ice on the water in the spring house reservoir.

There is every reason to believe that the source of the spring is at such a depth that it rises in the regions near the earth's molten interior.

As before said, the Hanover people have had free access to the spring ever since the first settlers, and they regard it as the best medicine in the world; and are firmly convinced that the good health of the people that distinguishes Hanover is due to using this water.

The company has, in consideration of the long custom, not deprived the inhabitants of free access to the water, and for their accommodation have run a pipe from the spring house to a point in the bank, where they can get their supply as formerly, free of charge.

In the bank, not far from the bottling house, are the cascades. At that point the bed of the stream is a flat ledge, that when the surface of the earth was cooling, formed in ridges, and as the water rushed down over them, there is produced a living picture in a very white, cold, the real beauty of which is hardly to be described or imagined. Similar effects are seen, in less beauty, however, in several places farther up the stream.

When the plateau is reached, the great ledge that caps the top of the mountain still rears its flat, iron, and granite seemed sides several hundred feet above, and gives in waste power upon the pond that is imprisoned below, and the village in the river valley.

The plateau, a stretch of many acres, on the east side of the pond, was formerly occupied by several large farm houses, but there is nothing now remaining to remind one of the fact, save the outlines of some of the houses, and some old apple trees, scattered here and there, and a little bush, such as in former times was a feature of every farm yard.

There are a few cottages on the shores of the pond, that are a sight during the summer.

There is in the center of the plain a slight elevation that commands a view of the pond and surrounding hills, and would be an ideal site. The place could easily be transformed into a beautiful park.

In fact, in the early twenties of the last century, a Mr. Bennett, of Maine, spent money, had partially perfected plans to develop the place and build a large hotel. It is probable that he had this particular spot in view.

It was through Mr. Bennett, who died before performing his plan, that the merits of this spring were brought to public notice. He was sitting and came in Maine for the purpose of having near some good spring to be cooled his beautiful water to drink. By chance he met some one who knew about this Hanover spring, and acting upon that person's advice, he went to Hanover.

When arriving there he was unable to walk from his boarding place to the spring, and had the water brought to him, but in two weeks he had gained so much strength that he walked to the spring, and continued to do so every day for the rest of his stay.

He returned to Hanover every summer and always declared that the use of the water prolonged his life. He was well advanced in years when he first came there. He was in the first sailing boat to Monhegan.

Hanover has got a new small road, and the water is now being bottled in the new building.

WEST PARIS.

DEATH OF LEWIS E. GILMAN.

Last Monday forenoon the body of Lewis E. Gilman was brought here for burial. The service was at the Universalist church, Rev. Miss Macduff officiating. Mr. Gilman was brought here from Portland where for some months he has been ill with Bright's disease. He was 65 years of age in April and leaves a family of wife, who before marriage was Miss Minnie Young of North Paris, and a son Herbert Lewis and daughter Minnie all of Portland. Several members of the family came for the funeral services, and made a short visit with Mrs. Gilman's mother, Mrs. Anna C. Young. Mr. Gilman was born at Mount Vernon, Maine, and went from there to Acworth Co. where he worked for some years with his brother in the printing business. Later he made his trade that of blacksmith. After coming to North Paris he was married and for some years lived there and at Summer then coming to this village where he resided some 2 or 3 years working in the blacksmith shop for Hannibal Portland. Not long after that he went to Portland where he began working on the street cars, later going to Boston where for 12 years he has been motorman on the electric. He served about 3 years in the Civil War as a cornet player in a band and was in the same band with his father-in-law, Mr. Nathaniel Young. He was shot once through the thigh, the bullet going entirely through the body, and although bleeding profusely he made his escape from the wound on a horse belonging to a wounded Colonel. He is well remembered in this locality as a fine cornet player and for several years was leader of the West Paris Brass Band which was in existence for some time about 20 years ago. Mr. Gilman was a Mason and also a member of West Paris Lodge of Odd Fellows. Quite a delegation from this lodge escorted the funeral procession and performed at the cemetery their impressive burial service. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers.

Children's Day will be observed at the Universalist church next Sunday morning the 14th. There will be a special song service by the choir and some of the Sunday School children and a baptism. Every one interested is invited to attend. The evening meetings at the Universalist church have been discontinued until further notice.

Nearly 100 members of West Paris Lodge No. 15, I. O. O. F. and Grand Relief Lodge united in a special memorial service last Sunday afternoon the 7th. The sermon was very good and was preached by Rev. J. H. Little of South Paris, at the Baptist church. Special music was furnished by a quartette: Mrs. F. E. Farnam, soprano, Mrs. Elva E. Locke, alto, J. M. Irish, tenor, F. A. Denham, bass.

Following this service quite a large delegation marched to the cemetery where the 26 graves of the members of the 2d order were decorated with flags and flowers.

Immediately following this service, the Fins held a religious meeting at the F. B. church. Rev. Laurie McIntosh of Thomaston, who came here from time to time to serve as their pastor, preached the sermon to about 25 men and 10 or 15 women, the attendance being smaller than is usually the case. They sang their hymns with much fervor the music having a minor strain much like the Norwegian melodies. One peculiarity of their service is that, like the Quakers, the men sit on one side of the house and the women on the other. Many of our citizens think that is the only objectionable feature. While the language is unintelligible to the English tongue, it appears to be smooth and easily spoken, and Mr. McIntosh is an able and fluent speaker. He held the attention of the men and many of the women were moved to tears.

The monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held with the local president, Mrs. Lewis I. Bates, Thursday afternoon of last week. There was a large attendance and a very interesting meeting, the special program being prepared as the topic of Flower Mission. Refreshments were served.

West Paris Base Ball team played its first game of the season on Oxford, last Saturday afternoon and they won the game by quite a good score.

Rev. F. S. Mansfield attended the Universalist State convention at Dexter last week.

The company was recently incorporated under the name of the Hanover Spring Company, by J. A. Gagne, Chas. A. Bates, J. M. Irish, and J. M. Irish.

FALL PLOWED LAID.

Freezing of Winter Brings Soil Into Better Tilt in Spring.

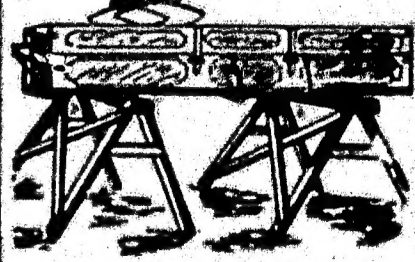

As much plowing as possible should be done in the fall on the western farm. The soil turned up is exposed to the frosts of winter, and they penetrate it to a considerable depth. It has been found that soils that are covered with sod are not penetrated more than half as deep by the frost as are those soils recently plowed. It is desirable to loosen the earth below the depth to which the plow goes. This is especially valuable in clay soils. With ground-plowed soil before the coming of frost, the soil will be found frozen often to the depth of 20 inches. This means that every particle to that depth is moved, to a small extent. The expansion of the particles of moisture pushes apart and breaks up the most retentive soil. Clay soil that has been well drained is thus made friable to a great depth, and when spring comes and the frost goes out of the ground the soil will be so loose that air can penetrate to a great depth and chemical action be made easy for.

The manures in the surface soil are disintegrated and some of them are washed down to the depth the frost has gone, says Farmers Review. The following result is that the roots of the plants seek the cool moist earth below if there be in it plenty of plant food, and the plants supported by the roots are the more able to resist any drought that may come in summer. Where droughts are common it is desirable to have plants root as deeply as possible.

Fall plowing also will be found free of cutworms and other injurious insects in the spring. Some of these insects try to get below the frost line, or at least to a point where freezing and thawing in the early spring is not possible. The plowing of the land turns up these insects and, though they be still covered by the soil, leaves the ground so loose about them that they freeze, and that several times in the late fall or early spring and are thus killed. While fall plowing does not entirely wipe out the army of cutworms that may be in any ground it greatly lessens their number.

HANDY WAGON BOX BENCHES.
Two or Three Sets Will Prove Very Serviceable on Farm.

Two or three sets of wagon box benches similar to those shown in the accompanying illustration will be found very useful in avoiding heavy lifting and also in the economizing of time.

Handy Wagon Box Benches.

The benches should be about two inches wider than an ordinary wagon box so that the bed pieces of the racks that are bottomless can be set upon them.

The main piece used in the construction of these benches is a 2x4 plank. The legs are made of 2x4s. Braces are added for strength.

The height of the benches, suggests Prairie Farmer, should depend upon the height of the wagon. They should be about even with the tops of the wheels.

Spelling the Heflers.
It is not difficult to spell a young heifer while yet a calf so that she will be of much less value when she becomes a milch cow. If care is used during early training the young heifer can be made to stand as quietly as an old cow. One trouble is caused by children who play with the calves and teach them to butt. The children handle the calves' heads and in pushing against their forehead soon learn them to push. This may be fun for the children, but it spoils the calves as they are ever after bad bookers and often must be disposed of. They should be early broken to lead and to stand squarely with a halter. I give them salt and bran when they are quite young and teach them to be handled all over, says a writer in Farm and Home, those when they become older they stand quietly whenever I stop.

How to Purchase Calves.
In order to make any trading operation profitable the stock must be obtained at a reasonable price. It is even a purchased animal will not bring more on the block than its value for meat, and then the original cost of the animal together with the cost of the feed must be smaller than the selling price. Calves may be bought by the pound or by the head. The latter being the most common way of buying and selling in the west and southwest. The suggestion is made that feeders unacquainted in handling young cattle should buy them by the pound, because they are likely to overestimate their weight, thus at the outset securing a serious handicap in a profitable sale.—Western C. THE HOME CIRCLE.

Pleasant Recreations—A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers
as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

Editor's Note.—It is our desire to make this department one of the most interesting and valuable features of the whole paper. To this end we ask the assistance of our readers. Choice verse and gems of thought will be gladly received. Here are not thanks for anything that our friends have sent or may send.

A woman's bureau drawer will hold half
— a ton of clothes.
A parrot, some handkerchiefs, and good — "ness only knows
How many scores of other things within
It she may store,
And yet there's always lots of room for twice as many more.

But give a man that self-same drawer
And just one pair of socks,
An undershirt, some dirty cuffs, an empty collar box,
And when he puts them in, its capacity
he'll gloat,
And all it up on an awful fall, he'll never get it shut.

Just where those art
And sing the song that stirs thy heart;
Reach forth thy strong and eager hand
To lift, to save, just where thou art.
Just where thou standest light thy lamp,
Tis dark to others as to thee;
Their ways are always ledged by unseen things,
Their hidden fret as thine fret thee.

Out yonder, in the broad, full glare
Of many lamps, thy own might pale;
And thy sweet song, amid the roar
Of many voices, slowly fall;
While these thy kindred wandered on Unheeded, delighted to the end;
Near to thy hand thy mirror lies,
Wherever and howe'er a friend.

—Isabel Darling.

Make This A Day.
Make this a day. There is no gain
In breeding over days to come;
The message of to-day is plain,
The future's lips are ever dumb.
The work of yesterday is gone—
For good or ill, let come what may—
But now we face another dawn.
Make this a day.

Though yesterday we failed to see
The singing hand and earnest face
That men call Opportunity,
We failed to know the time or place
For some great deed, what need to fret!
The dawn comes up a silver gray,
The golden moments must be met.
Make this a day.

This day is yours; your work is yours;
The odds are not who pays your hire;
The things accomplished—that endure,
If it be what the days require.
He who takes up his daily round
As one new armed for the fray,
To narrow steps on still ground.
Make this a day. — Selected.

Young people should remember that you cannot trust a man simply because you see the golden rule placed on the front of his hat.

These days we sit on the sunny side of the car, with the sunny side of the street and all in the sunny glow of the house. But we also walk on the sunny side of life and see the sunny side of the departed things of life.

Supplement what the children learn at school with reading lessons at home. Reading alone is good, will improve the reading of the reader, and give information to members of the home circle who may be obliged to work with their hands in the evening.

When tempted to criticize the food
on the home table, remember the advice that science is golden. Criticism is never so unbecoming to the housekeeper as at the table, where, in spite of hard work and worry, things will occasionally appear that are not as she had planned.

A Toast to Gentlemen.
The following toast to gentlemen is lauded to by a lady contributor:
Gentlemen! They have our joys, they double our sorrows, they tempt our infirmities, they comfort our ailments, they inspire our imagination, they inspire our self respect, when our intellect sinks, when our affection, cooled our property, and not measure us in everything. They would be a dreamy world without them. In fact, I may say without prospect of successful continuation, that without them this world would be much of a world without we have them, and the dear things don't help it: we cannot know, and the gentlemen follow don't know it. As household they are convenient, though not always on hand; as beaux they are by no means "matchless." They are most agreeable as visitors, handy at state fairs, and indispensable at oyster saloons. They are splendid as escorts for some other fellow's wife or sister, and as friends they are better than women. As our fathers they are inexpressibly grand. A man may be a failure in business, a wreck in constitution, not enough to boast of as beauty, nothing as a wit, less than nothing as a legislator for women's rights, and not very brilliant as a member of the press, but if our father we overlook his shortcomings and cover his peccadilloes with the divine mantle of charity. Then as our husbands, how we love to parade them as paragons! In the sublime language of the poet:

"We'll live for 'em,
We'll cry for 'em
And if we could we'd fly for 'em;
We'd anything but die for 'em."

Starting in Life.
You are soon to leave and break away from the tender ties of home, and go out to seek your fortune in the world. Let us whisper a few words of counsel. We suppose you wish to be rich; most people do. We don't think riches desirable. We should be sorry to have inherited wealth. But a competence is very desirable, is indispensable. Well, the way to get it is by forethought to plan, industry to execute, and prudence to keep the savings of your work. Get what you honestly earn, but never take more. Money is by no means the best thing in life.
You are here in this world to become a good man, a wise man, a just man,
an affectionate man, a religious man.
Work for you make good as much as for money; take as much pains to get as much to keep it. Keep clear of vice, especially intemperance, gambling and licentiousness. These three ruin thousands of young men every year. Be not gloomy, sour and stiff.
Cheerfulness, gaiety, liveliness and mirthfulness belong to your period of life. You will find little real pleasure in anything your conscience forbids.
As you have opportunity, cultivate your mind and forethought, prudence and industry will help you here as much as in getting money. And now would you prefer the sunshine of life forever! We must say to you there is no real happiness in life without religion. It is a restraint from doing wrong, an encouragement to do right, and a great comfort at all times of life. And finally, remember, though absent from the sight of the dear ones at home you will ever live in their hearts, and their highest earthly wish will be that you may prove yourself a good man.

The Comfort of Being a Boy.
There is a comfort to be a boy in the amount of work he can get rid of doing. It is sometimes astonishing how slow he can go on an errand; perhaps,
he couldn't explain to himself why,
when he is sent to the neighbor's for eggs, he steps to store frogs. He is not exactly cruel, but he wants to see if he can hit 'em. It is a curious fact about boys, that two will be a great deal sicker about doing any thing than one. Boys have a power of hurling each other do nothing. But what you will about the general cousiness of boys, a farm without a boy would soon come to grief. He is always in demand. In the first place he is able to do all the errands, go to the store, postoffice, and carry all sorts of messages. He would like to have as many legs as a wheel barrow, and retire in the same way. This he sometimes tries to do, and people who have seen him "trotting out wheels"
along the side of the road have supposed he was smuggling himself and hiding his time. He was only trying to invent a new mode of locomotion, so he could command his legs, and do his errands with greater dispatch.
Lump-frog is one of the methods of getting over the ground quickly. He has a natural genius for combining pleasure with business.

The parents who raise their sons to be men are doing them an unpropriate harm. Every boy is entitled to know by actual experience what hard manual labor means, and to get the sweat that comes from lathered muscles and a lathered skin.

WHEAT AND TARES

Now the country's spread all over
With the sunshine, and the breeze
Plays among the big red clover
With the clumsy bumblebees;
Songsters hide in leafy covers
From the brightness of the noon,
Then, like ascending lovers,
Sing their love-songs into June.

Those who pay as they go find the going pleasant.

With God,—go over the seas,
Without him,—not over the threshhold!

Suppose we put a half-kick on our dispositions.

Dare to be a Daniel
Dare to stand alone
Dare to have a purpose firm
Dare to make it known.

A contented mind is a continual feast.

Some men haven't so much push as a frog has in one hind leg.

Nine tailors make a man, but a woman can make fools out of a dozen men.

The year's at the spring!
And day's at the moral
The lark's on the wing,
The swallow's on the throat!
God's in his heaven—All's right with the world!

—Browning.

The garden has a hundred heads—growing on the cabbage; it has a thousand eyes—showing on the potatoes; it has any number of ears—hanging on the sweet corn; and it has all the toes it wants, too—on the tomatoes.

Learning Early.
A Sunday school teacher had been telling her class the story of the Good Samaritan. When she asked them what the story meant, a little boy said: "It means that when I am in trouble my neighbors must help me."

"Don't you believe in love at first sight?"
"At first sight, yes; but it is better to take another look!"—London Opinion.

Building Note in 1902.
In order to complete the one hundred and tenth story of the Skyline building, the contractors will have to raise the sky three or four feet.—Harper's Weekly.

Watch your neighbor and if he is doing well, imitate him. But rather make it worth while for your neighbor to imitate you.

Before going to town, or calling on a neighbor, shine your shoes, brush your teeth and clean your finger nails, and surround the four corners of your mouth with a broad smile.

Some Moments.
"This bill for $1,200 is altogether too high," said the client.
"But didn't I prove you were crazy and get you acquitted," replied the lawyer.

Sun or Moonlight.
Gruffy George—But didn't what gave me do time said he didn't believe I ever took a bath. I told him I often took an immovable bath.

Sandy Pikes—And what kind of baths are immovable baths, pard?
Gruffy George—Why, immune from soap and water.—Chicago Daily News.

Cutting Down the Throat.
"Old Abraham took his son into der business as a partner so der boy couldn't steal no much and der old man's money."

"He can't be steal as much!"
"Now, rine be steal a teller be steal half and it from himself!"— Judge.

Thinking of Kittens.
"Feg!"
"Yes, my son."
"How many days does it take before a potato gets its eyes open?"—

Too True.
Crimespeak—This guest is a low-down complaint, don't you think?
Toad—Why not?
"It always strikes a man below the belt!"—Yankee Statesman.

The Whyter.
"Jones just refused a tiger. I thought he was an invulnerable smoker!"
"Oh, that's all right. He's only sworn off after Christmas, so his wife won't give him signs."—Judge.

DIXFIELD ITEMS.The Happenings of the Week as gathered by the Citizen Reporter.

Mr. & Mrs. M. L. Murch, of North Jay and Mrs. E. C. McLain, of Berry Mills, were at the home of Emerson W. Murch, their brother, to help care for him during his last illness.

Mrs. Phebe Hutchinson, of Livermore Falls, was a guest at the home of W. E. Putnam last week; she is now visiting her father, Luther Hutchinson, of Berry Mills and other relatives.

Mr. Charles Fernald and family, of Rumford Falls, were guests at the home of Mrs. Hannah Holman over Sunday.

Rev. G. B. Hannaford was in town Friday, called to attend the funeral service of Mr. Leslie Brackett, of Peru, whose death occurred Thursday morning. The interment was at Auburn.

The funeral service of Emerson W. Murch, whose death occurred Saturday morning, was held at his late residence, Monday P. M., Rev. E. W. Webber of Rumford Falls officiating. The Staples choir of Carthage was in attendance, and sang beautiful selections. The service was conducted by the Masonic Order of which he was a member; Monitor Chapter O. E. S. were present in a body, beside many friends and relatives. Mr. Murch leaves a widow, an aged father, a sister, Mrs. E. C. McLain, of Berry Mills, a brother, M. L. Murch, of North Jay, and two nephews. Mr. Murch had been in ill health for some time, yet his death came as a shock to his relatives and friends. His age was 53 years, 7 months and 19 days. The interment was at the Newnam Cemetery in Carthage.

CANTON HAPPENINGS.As Observed and Told by the Citizen Reporter.

Geo. Maxwell and wife of Lynn, Mass. are visiting their parents, John Maxwell and wife and Monroe Shackley and wife.

C. L. Smith of Water Park, Fla. is the guest of his son, L. W. Smith and wife.

Mrs. Henry Tirrell has been spending a few days at Rangely with her husband who is employed at that place.

Mrs. F. A. Smith has returned from a visit in Massachusetts.

A baby daughter arrived in the home of A. J. Barrett and wife on Wednesday, June 3rd. Mrs. Barrett's sister, Miss Twigg of Portland is caring for her.

Mrs. Roscoe Lowell returned Friday from a week's visit in New Hampshire.

Lucy Whittier of Gorkham is visiting her grandmother Mrs. L. A. Davis.

G. L. Wadlin has a new gasoline launch in the Lake.

Miss M. N. Richardson has returned home from Boston to spend the summer months.

Mrs. Eliza Godding and daughter Mabel attended the Anniversary of the Sunday School Association held at Dixfield last week, also Quarterly Meeting at West Park.

Dr. F. W. Morse attended the Democratic caucus held at Lewiston Tuesday and was elected as a delegate to attend the National Democratic Convention which will be held at Denver, Col. on July 7th.

Henry J. Davis of Auburn has been in town repairing the engine at the grist mill.

Mrs. Orasmus Bartlett of Hartford visited her sister, Mrs. C. F. Oldham last week.

The Canton Universalist and Free Hope Circle met with the Canton Point Circle last Wednesday and spent an enjoyable afternoon.

Elmer Bailey and family of the Point have moved to Mexico.

Red Russell has resigned his position as section agent at Livermore Falls and went to Rockton, Mass. Monday to visit his sister who is teaching at that place.

C. C. Rocks and wife have been the guests of Frank Philbrook and family at Livermore Falls for several days.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Memorial service will be delivered at Old Fellows hall next Sunday at 2.30 P. M. by Rev. E. W. Webber of Rumford Falls. All are cordially invited to attend.

At the last regular meeting of John A. Dodge Relief Corps one candidate was initiated and the following delegates chosen to attend the W. K. C. Corps 5th Annual Convention: Mrs. John Briggs, Mrs. C. F. Oldham, Mrs. G. F. Twigg and Mrs. C. E. Richardson. Absentees, Mrs. York, Little Sunday and the Surgeon.

ANDOVERThe Happenings of the week as Told by Our Correspondent.

Mrs. Charles Howe with her two little girls and Ella Burditt visited friends in town Saturday.

Mrs. Hannah Hanson sold her household goods at public auction Wednesday of last week.

The King's Daughters met last Friday afternoon with Mrs. Wirt Ledyard.

Y. A. Thurston and wife went to Lewiston and Rockland last week returning Friday.

Wm. Learned went Tuesday to Lewiston as delegate from this town to the Democratic Convention.

C. A. Rand has purchased the store and business formerly owned by the late C. A. Dresser and has opened it to the public. He intends to keep a first class line of goods and sell at popular prices. We are glad to have this store open again.

Mr. Rand will continue to run his saw mill with Mr. Thomas as foreman and Ed. Rand as assistant.

Mrs. F. E. Leslie and Mrs. Willard Newhall returned Friday from Biddeford, Me. where they were sent as delegates to the State Convention of King's Daughters and Sons. They were the only delegates present from this part of the State and the report of this society was received with much enthusiasm. This Convention has not met since 1899 and all the reports of work done by the different societies were very interesting. About forty-four delegates attended, mostly from the eastern part of the state, one even coming from Galatz, Mo. Byron Stevens of Portland, State Secy presided in a very pleasing manner. Thursday evening she gave a stereopticon lecture on the work the King's Daughters are doing in this country. Picture after picture was thrown on the screen, of hospitals, homes and rest rooms founded and built in the different states by these societies, until one at last begins to realize that this order stands for much that is good and helpful. The society connected with the 2nd Parish Congregational church, Rev. Walter Woodsum pastor, entertained this Convention and a royal welcome was given to all.

Mrs. Bert Blackman of Rumford Falls arrived Saturday at Glenville.

Mrs. Frank Baker returned to Brooklyn, N. Y., last Thursday.

Lucretia Howey is working at Mrs. C. A. Rand's.

Mr. Harris Elliot and wife and Dr. McCarty and wife of Rumford Falls were at Hotel Twitchell Sunday.

R. A. Grover has purchased an automobile.

There is some talk of a Fourth of July celebration here, and it is to be hoped it will be decided on soon so preparations can be begun earlier than last year.

Our base ball ball boys came up against a strong team when the Rumford Falls boys met them on the grounds, last Saturday. It is the feeling of all present that the umpire favored the visiting team, especially in the early part of the game, still our boys did not play well at all as the score, 17 to 2 will show.

Miss Dora Jordan and Miss Grace Grace of Alfred arrived at Glenville, Tuesday, for a few weeks' stay. Miss Jordan spent some weeks here, last winter.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our sincere appreciation of the many helpful deeds of kindness, to the many friends, who assisted during the illness and death of our beloved husband, son and brother, to the minister for his comforting remarks, the Masonic service and the choir for their beautiful selections, and to all, who in so many ways helped to lift the sorrow from those who deeply mourn his absence.

Beginnings of Great Men.

"It was here, in this old school-house," mused the man with the big diamond pin, who had returned after an absence of 30 years to the scene of his boyhood days, "that I learnt my letters. It was here that I laid the foundation, so to speak, of all my success in life. Even then," he continued, "I gave indications of the bestness of my career I have followed."

"Yes!" said the old schoolmaster with a note of interrogation in his voice.

"Yes," pursued the other, pointing with his cane to the paper walls still visible on the smoke blackened ceiling, "do you see these?"

"Yes!" "Well, I threw them there." "And now?" "And now I am the owner of a large paper mill—Newell Magazine."

Your Sick Child

can't tell you what it has or how it feels—it only shows it is sick and miserable. If it is restless and peevish, doesn't sleep well, has pains in the stomach and bowels or has an erratic appetite the trouble undoubtedly is stomach or pin worms. Give the little one a few doses of that famous old life saver

DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR

IN USE 30 YEARS.
If worms are present they will be expelled. If no worms exist this wonderful medicine acts gently, yet positively, in tuning up the whole system to rugged health.
